John C. Bell & Co.,
ON FRIDAY, MARCH 12, AT 12 O'CLOCK.
This will be the real Estate Sale of the season. Free Lunch and Free Carriages at the Grounds.

SO DELIGHTFULLY SITUATED VILLA LOTS
on Fair Oaks, Pasadena and Terrace avenues, to be sold, without reserve, in front of the Raymond Hotel. These lots command a lovely view of the entire valley, town, jane tiona, and of the magnificent hotel. This hotel now is approaching completion, and Mr. Raymond says that on Nov. 1st—or before that—the grand opening will take place. When that occurs it will be the largest and finest hotel probably in the United States. There are now about ever 200 rooms ready for occupancy, and these lots are within about 300 yards from the hotel. These are the largest villa lots that we have ever offered for sale. The best of drainage. Soft, cool, sparkling, mountain water piped along the avenues in abundance. Should you prefer to have your own well, you can obtain great water at from 12 to 15 feet. These lots are surrounded by palatial and beautiful homes. The contract for the new line of street railway has been signed, ex-tending from the Raymond to Pasadena proper. Very shortly it will be in order and running. New style of cars, with all the latest improvements of the day.

WE OFFER THESE LOTS AS AN INVESTMENT.
The price you purchase these lots at, we believe, on or before the completion of the hotel, will double in value; in fact, it makes but little difference where you purchase, since that it is a well founded fact that the Raymond was to be built, and has and will increase in price rapidly. Three minutes' walk from these lots to the S. P. R. R. The business center of the colony barely half a mile distant, and the growth is directly toward this fine tract.

THESE LOTS ARE MOSTLY 70x270 FEET.
Each lot is covered with vines five years old.
Do not buy until you have seen this tract. You will not again have such an opportunity to purchase such desirably situated Pasadena property, as every lot will be sold without reserve.

This Great, Grand Excursion, 50c. for Round Trip.
The Raymond Hotel is a place of beauty and a great curiosity. This excursion enables parties who have never had the pleasure, of visiting the Raymond. They can now do so at a very reduced rate—50 cents each way; round trip, 50 cents.

Mr. Spurgeon is sick.

NOW THAT we have some jail plans, let us have a jail pretty soon, if not sooner. The $1,000 a month rent is something of which the average taxpayer cannot look without a dyspepsia.

LEMOT has arrested another pro moter named Louisa Hart, and her downfall seems to implicate a number of titled souls. By the way, what did the English send Editor Stead to prison for?

RUMORS and RUMORS of strikes continue. Labor seems to be looking now with Capital all over the United States, and, thus far, Labor seems to have the stronger neck and the stiffer back.

It has been decided by vote of Council to pave Spring and Second streets, in front of the city property, with cobble—to set a good example to other property owners. This is the first practical step toward a long-sought reform.

The ladies who directed last year's Flower Festival to a success so marked and unlikable, are preparing for a second edition, which shall far surpass the first. Their call for flowers should bring down an avalanche of bloom.

Some a couple more points for Congressman Markham! He has secured mail service on the California Southern about between Waterman and Los Angeles, and on the Los Angeles and the Gabriel Valley railroad. Is the latter mail coming by way of Waterman? It will gain fifteen hours over the present service.

COUNCIL yesterday presented the City Gas Company with the same knife which had already lopped the exuberant charges of the City Water Company. The gas rates were cut down from $2.50 per thousand to the more reasonable figure of $2.50, which is still a rather high rate for a city like Los Angeles. Council is getting itself bad.

BOWEN M. WHITE republishes the notice that Gov. Stoneman has tendered him the appointment as United States Senator to succeed Senator Sargent. He says he has had no conversation with Gov. Stoneman since the latter's election as Governor Miller's death. All the same, if the Governor is going to make an appointment, and if, in quietude must necessarily be a Democrat, he could not please Southern California better than by naming Steve White. Whether Mr. White is eligible or not, or whether, if eligible, he could or would accept the high position, if it were tendered him, we are not advised.

AMUSEMENTS.

ROSSI HALL.—The Heine Quartette gave the fifth of their popular recitals last night, at Nadeau Hall. The audience was not a very large one, but was composed of thorough lovers of classical music, and perfectly appreciated and the treat given them. Beethoven's Sonata op. 24, for piano and violin, was rendered in a masterly manner by Mr. Hamm and Lizzie Heine, who was followed by Schubert's op. 40, by the quartette, which was undoubtedly the gem of the evening. The "Hungarian Dance," for the flute, was the next on the programme. Louis Heine performed this admirably, overcoming the many difficulties in a manner to satisfy his critical auditors. The soiree concluded with Beethoven's trio, for piano, violin and violoncello, op. 1&3. These recitals should be more extensively advertised, and will then draw audiences worthy of their talent.

Y. M. C. A. HALL.—There was a lecture on phrenology given last night at this Hall, by Dr. Murray Edwards, M. D., which attracted quite a number of people. It was a lively and pleasant address, accompanied by various demonstrations, among which were the reading of character according to size of heads, and the examination of lumps on the heads of some of those present. The doctor also mesmerized or hypnotized an individual, whom he made sale of his coat and go through several ridiculous antics.

The City Health.

Health Officer Baker yesterday presented to Council his report for February. He states the causes of death for the month as follows:
Typhoid fever, 1; consumption, 15; cancer, 1; heart disease, 1; bronchitis, 1; paralysis, 1; apoplexy, 2; chronic diarrhœa, 1; inflammation of the stomach and intestines, 1; cerebro-spinal meningitis, 1; puerperal fever, 1; enteritis, 1; old age, 1; membranous croup, 1; accidents and miscellaneous, 7. Considerable sanitary work was done during February. A latecomer has been ordered, and the sink will be in the park well. The city is free from contagious disease except scarlet fever, which is in a mild form, but should be guarded against.

Penny Bills.

The Committee on Gas has been investigating some of the crooks and turns of the gas company. In its report to Council yesterday, the committee said:
"The gas bills in most cases are unusually large, notably that for the month before February, which is $87.15 for 34,000 feet of gas consumed, and the account was at full head, of twelve six-foot burners and twelve burners each day for thirty days. The bill for the house of Consolidated Engine Company is $17.15, consumed in about three six-foot burners during the hours of darkness for thirty days."

Conlan's Agree.

J. W. Davis, ex-editor of the Censor, is now in the drug business, was on hand all day yesterday in the Mayor's office for selling liquor without a license. Justice Austin presided, Mayor Davis saying that he was too prejudiced. The case was called at 10 a. m., and it was 4:30 before they got a jury, the Mayor's counsel having failed to prepare a venire. Davis was represented by Wells, Van Dyke & Shaw, while the city's interests were looked after by City Attorney Mc-Kinley and Assistant Kelly. The jury was the first, and were finally discharged. It is reported that they stood ten for acquittal and five for conviction.

The Railroad Situation.

There was nothing new yesterday in the railroad war or the general railroad situation. Prices remained the same as on Monday, and each of the rival roads did a handsome business. The Southern Pacific has not yet met the last cut of the Short Line—$2 first-class to Kansas City, etc. It announces in the advertising columns of the TIMES, however, that it will give a new rate this morning.

Admitted to Practice.

J. C. Daly was yesterday admitted to practice in the Superior Court, on presentation of papers from the Supreme Court of New York. Mr. Daly is well known here, and his ability and eloquence are recognized, though he has been rather hiding his legal luminosity on the shelves of a banking house. He will be a creditable addition to the Los Angeles bar.

Bonifacius This Week.

Right before last the railroad depot at Ogilby was broken into and the express company thoroughly overhauled. No money, however, was obtained. A gang of Mexican scrapes to be working the lower portion of the county, and the robbing of two stores at Garden Grove the same date and robbed. No trace of the burglars has yet been found.

LOOKING UP WESTERN UNION MONOPOLY.

Likewise Preparing to Investigate Par Electric Telephone—Mr. Edmunds's Resolutions in the Senate.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

WASHINGTON, March 9. — S. H. Brooks, Assistant Treasurer, San Francisco, is confirmed.

INVESTIGATING THE TELEGRAPH.

There was a full attendance at a meeting of the House Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads this morning, called to begin the investigation ordered by the House, of certain matters embodied in resolutions as follows: "That the Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads is hereby empowered to ascertain whether additional legislation is needed to prevent a monopoly of telegraph facilities, and to secure to Southern, Western and Pacific States the benefits of competition between telegraphic companies, and to protect the people of the United States against unreasonable charges for telegraphic services."

Mr. Anderson was present and addressed the committee briefly in explanation of his purpose in offering the resolution. His general reason, he said, was an organic opposition to monopoly of any sort, but especifically in this instance his motive was to be found in the state of affairs existing between the Missouri river and the Pacific ocean—a region comprising one-half or two-thirds of the area of the United States. The State he had the honor of representing, in part (Kansas), was part of this region, and, together with the remaining seven States and organized Territories, was interested in the matter of cheap telegraphing. It was also vitally interested in preventing such a monopoly of telegraphing as would deprive its people and press of the advantages and safeguard of competitive facilities for obtaining news. It was also true, in the committee that, in the charters of all of the land-grant railways they are required to operate their telegraph lines precisely as they operate their railroads; next, that they have illegally but substantially transferred the telegraph franchises to the Western Union Company, and consequently when a rival telegraph company reaches the eastern terminus of one of these roads, instead of receiving from that company without discrimination, its business, they refuse to do so, or at least unsatisfactorily refer to comply with this obligation of their charters. In other words, the Western Union, so far as that whole area is concerned (a region of 3,000,000 square miles, 5,000,000 people), has practically a monopoly, and it is carrying it to such an extent as to show a tendency to abuse it, in addition to failing to recognize right of a common carrier, a right also to gather and sell news of the day on its own account. If the committee would investigate the whole branch of the subject it would find the collection and sale of election news and such important matters as the President's messages are wrongfully monopolized by the Western Union Company. In some instances bare-faced attempts have been made by the Western Union Company to coerce newspapers into making exclusive contracts to transact their business by its wires. The committee will see at once how such attempts and assumptions threaten the liberty of the press and of thought, which is subjected to this monopoly. It is because of that fact and because of other matters upon which he would not be heard now, but later date that he had introduced this resolution.

D. H. Bates, President of the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Company, was then sworn and examined. He furnished full information and details of his connections with the full efforts of the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Company to have its telegraph business accepted by land-grant railways in the same manner and upon the same terms as telegraph business from other telegraph companies, and particularly those of the Western Union, had been or might be accepted. He said that the adoption of a bill such as was proposed by Representative Anderson would fully meet the requirements of the case.

THE CLOSING RECEPTION.

The closing reception at the White House to-night, given in honor of Congress, and to which the judiciary, army and navy and diplomatic corps were invited, was the most numerously attended of the season, and the magnificence of costumes and jewels worn by ladies eclipsed any of its predecessors. The President was assisted in receiving by Miss Cleveland, Miss Manning, Mrs. Endicott, Mrs. Whitney and Mrs. Vilas. The judiciary, members of the diplomatic corps, army and navy and Congressmen were all represented.

TO INVESTIGATE TELEPHONE.

The Select Committee of the House, charged with the telephone investigation, held a meeting for organization this afternoon, to which the sentiment of the committee that the examination of witnesses should be publicly conducted. If suitable rooms can be secured in the investigation proper will begin next Friday morning with the examination of the Rogers family and Casey Young. Meanwhile a sub-committee consisting of Messrs. Hall and Millard will proceed to take the deposition of Senator Vest, who requested that he be afforded an opportunity to appear in his connection with the issue of Pan-Electric stock.

MUST PAY FOR SURVEYING.

The House to-day passed a bill requiring the Pacific railroads to pay the cost of surveying their lands, and to take out patents thereto.

NEW MAIL ROUTES FOR SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

Congressman Markham has received a letter from the Second Assistant Postmaster-General, stating that mail service has been established between Waterman and Los Angeles which saves fifteen hours' time. Service has been established between Los Angeles and Pasadena. The new routes take effect in March.

XLIX CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Under the head of unfinished business, the Senate took up the resolutions reported by Edmunds from the Judiciary Committee. These resolutions, among other things, condemn the Attorney-General for refusing to transmit to the Senate papers called for by the Senate, and declare the refusal to be a violation by the Attorney-General of his official duty, and subversive of the fundamental principles of the government and good administration. The resolutions also condemn the discharge from government service of ex-Union soldiers. As the resolutions were read by the Chief Clerk the most absolute silence prevailed on the floor and in the galleries. The galleries were crowded to apparent discomfort, many persons being compelled to stand. This was notably true of the reserved gallery, to which admission is only parmitted by cards from Senators. Many gentlemen and not a few ladies, though, late in attendance, failed to find seats.

Mr. Edmunds made an exhaustive argument in support of the majority report.

Mr. Edmunds, in his speech, proceeded to call in question the case of the attorney for the southern district of Alabama. He read the order of suspension of Duckin, and the nomination of Barnett to succeed Duckin. He also read a resolution of the Senate, calling for papers on file relating to the administration of the office by Duckin, and a letter of the Attorney General refusing these papers and stating that the refusal was by direction of the President. He maintained that the act of the President did not remove Duckin, but simply withheld from him the duties and emoluments of the office, pending the decision of the matter.

Mr. Edmunds stated that, for the first time in forty years or more, so far as he had been able to discover, had either House of Congress failed to get information asked from a public department of the government. In conclusion, Mr. Edmunds said it did not seem to him that the Senate could fail to get papers on the ground that a statute on the subject had become obsolete, or gone into a state of "innocuous desuetude." [Laughter.] The President himself had sent to the Senate 643 instances of obedience to that law—643 nominations made under it—and Mr. Edmunds therefore took it that the law was still in force.

Mr. Pugh obtained the floor, and the Senate went into executive session and soon adjourned.

A PHILADELPHIA VIEW.

Conservatism in the Anti-Chinese Question Commended.

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—The Press editorially says: The tone of the Pacific Coast papers of late on the Chinese question has been commendable. They have, without exception, condemned the violent proceedings employed at Seattle and elsewhere to get rid of Chinese residents. The same spirit has been shown in nearly all local meetings held. They recognize that this is a question which cannot be settled in a day, and must be settled according to law. If the convention proposes some practical measure for the mitigation of the evils of Chinese immigration, it will accomplish far more toward solving the problem than by occupying its time with speeches filled with denunciation and demagogism. The country is ready to listen to the grievances of the Pacific States, and to consider what plans they have to offer for relieving them. It will not indorse any disposition to continue the methods which have been employed in some instances to get rid of the obnoxious residents. It is to be hoped that the convention to be held at Sacramento will condemn decidedly all such proceedings, and so increase the sympathy now felt for California in its embarrassment.

ENGLAND.

Gladstone Transacts Business in Bed.

LONDON, Tuesday, March 9.—Louisa Hart, a rich procuress of the West End, was to-day committed for trial on a charge of providing young girls for a number of aristocratic patrons. The woman's business had grown so bold and offensive that the police felt constrained to suppress it, but, though their efforts were vigorous, unable to secure evidence that would convict her. Mrs. Hart has caused a sensation in certain circles and gossip has implicated the names of many titled debauchees as likely to be implicated in the business by which the woman has grown rich.

GLADSTONE SICK.

It has been ascertained that Gladstone is confined to his room and has spent all the time since Sunday in bed. His physician has required the emergencies of State business to call on him have been received in his bed room. He attends to all necessary correspondence by dictation.

A Half Burned Body.

SAN JOSE, March 9. — Yesterday afternoon two men named Hickey and Woodpile, living on Mountain View road, at the headwaters of Stevens creek looking for land. They discovered the partially-burned body of a man about 700 feet from the building. The dead man named Griffin. The man had been killed and placed on a pile of wood for the evident purpose of burning the corpse. When discovered the head and a portion of the skull were burned. Beside the woodpile was a bottle partially filled with coal-oil. Hickey and Woodpile returned immediately to Mountain View and telephoned Coroner Harris. That official went out this morning, but no clue was obtained as to the dead man's identity. The whole affair is yet shrouded in mystery. Sheriff Branham will leave for the scene to-morrow morning.

Another Billiard Match.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Maurice Vignaux and Jacob Schaefer played the first section of a billiard match to-night, in the presence of a good-sized audience. The conditions are 3000 points up, in five night's play, 1000 points per night; 14-inch balk line; caroms. Schaefer won the bank and chose the spot ball. He seemed in better form than his opponent, and held the lead throughout except for a moment at 333, when Vignaux passed him by one point on his fine run of 149. Schaefer's, 500; average, 226 2-13. Vignaux, 502; average, 72 13-23.

"By Fraud and Corruption."

ALBANY, N. Y., March 9.—The Railroad Commission, which has been investigating the methods by which the franchise of the Brooklyn elevated railroad in New York City was obtained, to-day made its preliminary report to the Senate Committee. It is unanimously of the opinion that the franchise was procured from the Board of Aldermen of the City of New York, by trickery and corruption, and urges that swift and summary justice be meted out to the guilty parties, and also that the fruit of their corruption be taken from them. The Commission suggests four bills designed to restore the franchise and property to rightful owners.

Missouri Pacific's Directory.

ST. LOUIS, March 9.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company took place to-day, at which the following directors were elected: Jay Gould, Russell Sage, George J. Gould, Henry S. Morgan, George J. Forrest, Samuel Sloan, A. L. Hopkins, R. S. Hayes, Thomas I. Emery, Sydney Dillon, Fred L. Ames, H. S. Clarke and H. M. Hoxie. The annual report is to be read in New York at the directors' meeting next month.

A Million Dollar Estate.

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 9.—The will of Gen. H. M. Naglee, filed for probate to-day, after a number of minor bequests, leaves the remainder of the property to his two daughters, Marie and Antoinette, share-and-share alike. The estate is valued at $1,000,000.

Chosen Cardinals.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 9.—The Catholic Mirror received from Rome to-day a cable announcing that the Pope had chosen Most Rev. Elsear Alexander Taschereau, Archbishop of Quebec, as well as Archbishop Gibbons, of Baltimore, for elevation to the Cardinalate.

Sacramento Election.

SACRAMENTO, March 9.—At the city election to-day the Republicans elected Ryan, Second Trustee; Hart, City Attorney, and Coman, Fire Commissioner. The Democrats elected H. F. Dillman, Chief of Police.

Ex-Senator Chaffee Dead.

NEW YORK, March 9.—A telegram was received this morning announcing the death at Purdy's station, Westchester county, of ex-United States Senator Jerome B. Chaffee, father-in-law of U. S. Grant. He died of acute meningitis.

A Big Strike.

REDDING, March 9.—Three miles above Delta, J. J. Noonan, on Monday struck the richest quartz ledge yet found in Shasta county. The vein is seven feet wide. Native gold and silver can be scooped up with a spoon.

Court and Juror Demoralized.

HOLLISTER, March 9.—Juror Dampman in the Prewett case was worse this morning. Court adjourned until Wednesday. Judge Breen is also quite ill with neuralgia of the stomach.

ST. HELENA, March 9.—A smart shock of earthquake was felt here a few minutes before 9 this morning.

Raining at Napa.

NAPA, March 9.—A cold, heavy rain is now falling, and it is snowing on the hills beyond the redwoods.

The Grand Opportunity of Southern California.

Edward Ely, a prominent merchant of Chicago, writes as follows to F. L. Ailes, editor of the Rural Californian: "If Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties fail to make a fine citrus exhibit at Chicago this spring and at once, you will miss the most golden opportunity of placing yourselves in the front as orange-growers that it will ever be your good fortune to have presented to you. No $100,000 in gold, however wisely expended in other ways, could prove so self cacious. I do entreat you to put a word to the wise be sufficient."

STRIKING.

The Disquiet of Laborers East and West.

SOME STRIKES ENDED, OTHERS BEGUN.

The Carpenters and Joiners of New York Nearly All at Work Again—Anti-Chinese Strike.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

TROY, N. Y., March 9.—On the street car lines between Troy, Lansingburg, Cohoes and Waterford, no cars started this morning. Conductors and drivers, to the number of 300, were ordered on a strike by the Knights because the company refused to make a new schedule of wages for extra men or trippers.

A THREATENED STRIKE.

PITTSBURG, March 9.—Fifteen hundred street-car laborers in this city and Allegheny threaten to strike, owing to the discharge of five men, who claim that they were relieved because they were Knights of Labor.

THE STRIKE SUCCESSFUL.

NEW YORK, Tuesday, March 9, 1886. —The strike of carpenters and joiners has been successful, nearly all of the employers having granted the demands of the men. The latter have begun work again under average wages of $3.50 for a day of nine hours, and eight hours on Saturday. Only about 100 men are now out. Fifty men resumed work at noon to-day under the new agreement.

RESUMED WORK.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 9. — The miners at Latrobe Powhow, who struck yesterday for an increase of 15 per cent., resumed work to-day, the company conceding the advance.

AN ANTI-CHINESE STRIKE.

MENDOCINO, Cal., March 9.—At Fort Bragg, Mendocino county, the white men employed in the woods of the Fort Bragg Redwood Company made a demand last week on the company for the discharge of its Chinese laborers, threatening to quit unless their demand was complied with by Saturday last. The company discharged fifteen Chinamen, but retained the Chinese employed in completing the extension of the railroad, whereupon about 35 men employed in the woods struck.

CLERKS RELIEVED.

ST. LOUIS, March 9.—The managers of the Missouri Pacific railway offices in this city, to-day notified their clerks that they had decided to relieve them from duty indefinitely. This action is taken by the company in order to curtail as much as possible their expenses during the continuance of the Knights of Labor strike upon their road. This order affects sixty telegraph operators and 200 office clerks.

THE RECEIVER'S STATEMENT.

ST. LOUIS, March 9.—A very long statement, containing all material facts in connection with the strike on the Texas and Pacific Railroad, made by Gen. Brown, Receiver of that road, has been received here. The essential parts of the statement are as follows: Having referred to the appointment of a receiver of the road, Receiver Brown states that when, about December 9th, he went to Marshall on business connected with his office, he was waited upon by a committee of employés in the shop and asked if he would sign the agreement made by the management in force in March, 1885. Receiver Brown replied that the property being managed in the interest of the court, and the receiver being an agent of that court, the sanction of the court was necessary before such action could be taken, but he would deal frankly with the operatives and the same rate of wages would be paid them as paid by the former management. Therefore he received no complaint until Brown, in January, received a communication purporting to come from W. M. Moore and others, pitcent as a committee, which also drew his attention to the agreement, a copy of which was inclosed, and also a copy of regulations they wished endorsed. These regulations all expressed a desire for harmonious relations between the Texas and Pacific Railroad Company and the Knights of Labor, and read desiring that there be no reduction in the rate of wages unless mutually agreed upon; that no discharges be made without just cause and investigation, and that all disputes be referred to an arbitrating committee of six members, which shall be drawn equally from the company and the Knights of Labor. To this Brown replied, substantially, as to the other committee, adding further information showing that the court only had final jurisdiction in the premises. He then concludes with a statement that the refusal of the receiver to sign the agreement referred to, to which the power invested in him was not adequate was the sole cause of the strike, and any other allegation is an afterthought. A belief that the majority of the men went out against their wishes induced the company to offer them the privilege of returning March 8th, which they declined. The statement avows that the discharge of C. A. Bell is a misunderstanding of Mr. Gould, Hall's discharge was on account of his incompetency.

IN TEXAS.

GALVESTON, Tex., March 9.—Pending labor troubles continue to absorb general attention. The situation is not changed at this point beyond the strike of some cotton hands this afternoon.

Northern and Southern California San Diego Union.]

In the discussion that is just now going on regarding the relative advantages of Northern and Southern California, the argument is made that the reason why Northern California has been left behind in the race during the last ten years, is the greater value of the lands in that section, and the consequent indisposition of the holders to sell. What makes any land valuable, pray, but its productive capacity? Now if Northern California lands are so much more valuable than those in the south, as is claimed, they must be pretty well occupied by producers; and, if so, why the strenuous efforts to divert immigration from the South to the North? Surely, it will not pay men to hold large tracts of remarkably fertile land for years without cultivation. Taxation and interest would soon make the holding unprofitable. The immigration that Northern California is now seeking would have gone that way long ago and occupied the land if this claim of superior value were in fact true. Southern California labored under disadvantages at the start which had no existence in the North. The Mexican grant system, with the exclusion of the lands for grazing purposes, prevailed over the largest part of our southern country twenty years ago. The cattle interest was strongly intrenched in the laws of the State against the farming interest, and a long and hard battle had to be fought and won before agriculture and horticulture could gain a foothold here. The North was years ahead of us in that respect; and, if her soil was so much richer and more productive than ours, the demonstration of that fact should, by this time, have placed her beyond the need of immigration societies. Moreover, the North has had years the start of the South in rapid transportation facilities and nearness to a great market.

We must look elsewhere to explain the rapid advancement of the South while the North has been standing still. The great controlling fact may be stated in a single word—climate. It is the climate of Southern California which has made it the preferred section of the State in the choice of homes by immigrants. It is our climate which makes possible a range of production on our lands that has no equal in the world. Fertile though the lands of Northern California may be, their range of production is limited, while that of the lands of Southern California is unlimited. Where else in the world can be seen the profitable production for market, in the same tract, side by side, of the orange and the apple, the banana and the apricot, the olive and the peach, the guava and the blackberry—all the vegetables, all the grains and grasses, all the fruits of every clime? Southern California is a land equally exempt from cold winters and hot summers. Life here has more of comfort and less of hardship than in the North; more profitable crops can be produced with less labor and expense here than elsewhere.

It is not true that land-holders are more anxious to sell here than in the north. Every observing person who has traveled through the State knows the contrary to be the case. The one thing that commended the new Constitution to the people of Southern California was its feature of land taxation, tending, as it did, to force large tracts into the market for subdivision and occupancy by small holders. The result has been just what was anticipated in the general cutting up of the grants. Besides this, there was, and still is, a vast area of government land in Southern California open to settlement under the pre-emption and homestead laws. The knowledge of this fact (with the advantages of the climate) has brought into our borders a continually increasing stream of immigration. Over 900,000 acres of public lands were entered in San Diego county alone, in the year 1885. When a man can secure a farm from the government for $1.25 and cultivation, in a country that has no winter, and where his range of production knows no limit, it scarcely needs much persuasion to determine his choice.

We, for one, are glad to see the spirit of emulation that has recently animated our northern neighbors. We hope they will get prosperity by their efforts. The growth of northern California cannot hinder for an instant the progress of the south. If it shall be discovered that there are localities in the north in which some of the peculiar fruits of the south can be profitably produced, so much the better for the State. Sure it is, that no special virtue can be written into either section that has not been placed there by nature.

FLOWER FESTIVAL.

Record of a Year's Work of the Society.

The Flower Festival Society was organized in March, 1885, its immediate object being to provide a pleasant home for women who must support themselves upon small salaries. Within a month from the date of its organization the society had projected and inaugurated the first annual Flower Festival. The people of Los Angeles owe a debt of gratitude within our midst safe to this new enterprise a most enthusiastic reception, and crowded the hall to its utmost capacity so long as the display continued.

The net receipts of the Festival were about $2000—a sum insufficient for erecting a house adapted to the work of the society, but quite sufficient to give a practical test of the necessity for such a work.

A house was accordingly rented, neatly and comfortably furnished, and opened about the first of July, under the charge of a wise and competent matron, as a boarding house for women. Since the first few weeks the house has been full, often crowded, while many have been refused its privileges because of the lack of room.

The experiment having thus been made, and the fact demonstrated that Los Angeles needs such a boarding house, the board decided to erect for it a suitable building. Having secured $1000 by subscription, the same amount was drawn from the funds of the society and a desirable lot purchased on Fourth street, near Main. This followed the Loan Exhibit, given at Nadeau Hall in November, which, with Mrs. Hollenbeck's generous gift, furnished a nucleus of $2,500 for the building fund. In addition to this, donations of land have been made to the Society, valued at about $1,000, so that we have now, in addition to the lot, about $3,000 toward the proposed building. It will cost at least $5,000, and will accomodate fifty persons. The ladies expect to add to their building fund the $4,000 needed by means of their second Flower Festival, which opens in the Tabernacle on Tuesday evening, March 30th, and if secured, will proceed as soon as possible with the erection of the building. With a large and commodious home, the work of the Flower Festival Society will be so extended as to reach not only the women of Los Angeles, but also those of neighboring communities. We hope to welcome to the Boarding House young women who desire to attend the Normal and High schools of our city but unable to pay for suitable accommodations. With a good library, and pleasant reception rooms, we expect to make this Home a center for woman's work, and all helpful and benevolent enterprises in the interest of women. In the coming Festival, which is to forward this good work, we ask the co-operation of all willing hands and humane hearts in sympathy with us.

CHARLEY MILES.

He Makes Good His Deficit and is Acquitted.

Charles E. Miles, ex-County Recorder, had his trial, on the charge of embezzlement, before Judge Chapey yesterday.

The prosecution was represented by District Attorney Holton, and the defense by Stephen M. White, Esq.

The following stipulation was agreed upon:

"It is stipulated by the District Attorney and the defendant herein that the following are facts, viz:

That at the times mentioned in the indictment herein, the defendant Charles E. Miles was the duly elected and qualified County Recorder of Los Angeles county, California.

That as such County Recorder he came into the possession of the sum of $42,842.93 at the times and in the manner alleged in said indictment, which said money then and there belonged to said county, and that at the time of the finding of said indictment he had failed to pay over said money to the County Treasurer as required by law, and that the foregoing facts transpired in Los Angeles county, California.

Mr. White showed that he had that day turned over to Oscar Macy, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, a certified check for the full amount of Miles's deficit, $11,842.93. [This money was sent to Miles by his brother in Philadelphia, three weeks ago.] It was Miles's only chances to pay over the money before acquittal; but Mr. White thought it the square thing to do, and he did it. He then introduced several witnesses to prove Miles's good character. The jury was out half an hour, and then returned a verdict of not guilty, whereupon the prisoner was discharged.

The jury consisted of C. M. Jenkins, H. Corwin, E. H. Boyd, Harry Blee, Robert Steere, W. H. Pendleton, Joseph Millett, R. J. Collins, C. Gallup, Wm. C. McClay, J. P. Harrison and E. H. Jones.

A New Vocalist.

Of one of the leading vocalists in the coming Y. M. C. A. concert, Miss Annie L. Fuller, the Richmond, Va., Despatch, of recent date, said:

Miss Anna L. Fuller, a beautiful young soprano, sang at the regular Mozart musicale last night and achieved a fine triumph. Her voice is strongly dramatic, and her method is true and effective. She sang for her programme numbers: "Heaven Hath Shed a Tear," by Kucken, and "Spring Song," by Mendelssohn, both with orchestral accompaniment. She was forced to respond to two encores. Miss Fuller is the leading soprano for St. Stephen's church, Philadelphia, and commands a very large salary.

Perfume from Southern California Flowers.

Mention was made in yesterday's TIMES of the successful experiments recently made by Prof. De Lory, in extracting perfume from Southern California flowers. The Professor has left several bottles of delicious perfumery from white roses, grown in this city, at the TIMES office, and it shows that the enterprise can be made a grand success. The professor states that the flowers of this section contain a much larger quantity of the essential oil required for perfumery than the flowers of France, to which country the United States sends annually over $2,000,000 for the pomade from which perfumery is manufactured. It seems quite possible that the stomach here will attain large proportions, for in no country can flowers be raised more easily.

Will Get Started To-morrow.

Commissioner Clark says that the departure of the citrus fair delegation and exhibit has been delayed until Thursday (to-morrow). The fair will probably be opened on the 20th.

All of our people who have friends living in Chicago and vicinity should post them about the forthcoming citrus fair. No better chance will be offered for them to get a glimpse of Southern California while staying at home.

Fine Collection of Elegant Etchings and Engravings.

D. L. Warner, representing C. Klackner, the leading publisher of etchings and engravings in this country, will exhibit at Franklin & Co's Art Store, No. 29 South Spring street. This, indeed, is a rare treat. A book treating on proofs and prints, their grades, qualities and how to select them, will be given away. All lovers of art are invited.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 10, 1886.

An Inconsistency About It.

If the acquittal of Charles E. Miles, defaulting County Recorder, by the Superior Court, Department One, yesterday, was strictly in accordance with the dictates of justice, then how illogical justice is, to be sure! The defendant went into court on stipulation "That, as such County Recorder, he came into the possession of the sum of $14,862.93, at the times and in the manner alleged in said indictment, which said money then and there belonged to said county, and that, at the time of finding said indictment, he had failed to turn over said money to the County Treasurer, as required by law."

Willful or malicious failure to turn over county moneys as required by law is constituted by the statutes a felony. Waiving the "willful" and "malicious" qualifications, Miles acknowledged himself guilty of the accusation of embezzlement, and the rest might have been susceptible of proof. In support of the admission there was produced in court a certified check for the exact amount of the deficit which had been turned over to a county officer to be covered into the treasury.

But, in the face of these admissions, and despite the all but proven case, and the embezzled money returned, a jury was able to retire for a half hour and return a verdict of not guilty. What logic!

If Miles did not embezzle the money, why should the county accept his certified check? If he was innocent of the charge, as the jury found him, why did not the officer in possession of the money restore it to him at once? Why—— But there is no use of further multiplying knotty questions about this matter.

We cannot, however, refrain from recurring to a parallel case of lesser magnitude as it might occur in a police court. John Doe, we will say, is arraigned for stealing $11.86 from a money till. He acknowledges that he took the sum stated, but he brings it all into court with him and lays it down on the magistrate's desk. Is he thereupon acquitted? Not a justice in usually administered in the minor courts. The crime which John Doe had perpetrated against the laws of society and against property rights would no doubt have to be appealed to the extent of thirty days' imprisonment.

Multiply John Doe's case by a thousand and substitute a public officer for the unknown petty larcenist, and there is quite a different complexion to the outcome. Any number of complications came in by which it appears that, if he took the money, he might not have done it "willfully" or "maliciously," or if he took it and afterwards returned it, perhaps he did not take it at all. We cannot avoid the belief that, while this construction is placed on the lapses of public officials, public treasuries find poor protection under the law.

Temple Street.

It is an old saying that "all roads lead to Rome"; and so all roads in this part of the country lead to Los Angeles. One of the most important, if the one going out by Temple street. It leads directly to the Cahuenga Pass, and through that pass into San Fernando Valley; and so on to Ventura and Santa Barbara. In fact, all the northern coast naturally communicates with Los Angeles over this great thoroughfare, or would do so if it were in order and practicable at all seasons of the year. But, besides the large trade and travel from San Fernando and up the coast which would fall its way to the city over the Temple street road, there is the large and flourishing Cahuenga Valley and the foothills of the Santa Monica mountains, extending from the city quite to the ocean, all of which would be accommodated by this same road. The population of the regions last referred to is already many hundreds, and will in the near future be numbered by thousands. Temple street, though so important as a thoroughfare, has been almost wholly neglected by the city authorities, and during a portion of the year is utterly impassable, travel being compelled to take a roundabout course to the south, two or three miles out of the way. Temple street should be graded and paved, or macadamized, and rendered attractive, or at least practicable at all seasons. A few thoroughfares in the city need to be put in excellent condition, and Temple street is one of them.

One of the cable roads runs out a mile and a half on Temple street, and it is presumable that the Cable Road Company will put the street in order for driving thus far out. The city authorities should see to it that so much is accomplished; but it will devolve upon the Common Council and Superintendent of Streets to complete the road from the end of the cable-car line to the city limits—about as much further. This part of the Temple street outlet has been wholly neglected, and is usually in a horrible condition. In view of the great interest of the public in this improvement, it should receive special attention from the city authorities.

THE adoption of A. M. Edelman's jail plans by the Supervisors yesterday relieves that body of all embarrassments attaching to the plans formerly adopted and repudiated, and gives for the important work soon to be inaugurated a fair field and no favor. We sincerely hope and have reason to believe that; with this latest action, there are no entangling alliances, and that the county will receive a sufficient quid for the large amount of money to be expended. It is something of a satisfaction to know that the successful architect is a young man of Los Angeles birth and rearing, whose education was completed on this coast. He has it in his power to make a name and lay the foundation of his fortunes in the work which he has undertaken. Give the young man a chance!

Will R. F. Del Valle be Appointed United States Senator?

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: Have the great questions which have agitated the public mind for the past six years completely died out, or were the participants sincere in their advocacy?

The death of Senator Miller, and the power of appointing his successor being in Gov. Stoneman, we will not have to wait very long to have our questions answered.

Gov. Stoneman was a member of the State Board of Railroad Commissioners, which gave him a great insight into the workings of the corporations in this State, and while acting in such capacity, assisted by several prominent gentlemen, laid down a certain plan of action, by following which the interests of the people were to be protected as against the railroad corporations. The then Board of Railroad Commissioners, with the exception of Gov. Stoneman, became recreant to their trusts and have since been consigned to political obscurity. But on the contrary, the confidence of the people was in the plan of action mapped out, and believing Gov. Stoneman best calculated to protect thair interests, he was elected Governor of our State. The war which has been carried on to which particular branch Mr. Stoneman owes his election? Will he forget that Del Valle as a representative in the Senate and Assembly from this county, has always, in the Legislature and on the stump, championed the cause of the people by vote and action, and always sustained the anti-monopoly administration? Will he forget that this fidelity to the trust imposed upon him by the people, incurred for him the hatred of the corporations to the extent that his defeat for Congress can be traced directly to the influence of Stanford & Co.? Will he forget the fact that Del Valle alone, in this State, has been serving continuously in the Legislature when his vote on all questions was recorded in favor of the people?

Why, it is undenied that no man in the State of California has received more meritorious praise from the people, irrespective of party, than he for the record made while acting as the Democratic leader in the Senate during its two last sessions. The telegraph announces that there are several aspirants, among whom we find the names of ex-Chief Justice Wallace, Mr. George Hearst and Mr. Delmas.

Can Gov. Stoneman with consistency appoint Judge Wallace? Will he forget that the constituents of Wallace refused him a renomination to the Legislature, having sb little faith in his reformation, and his anti-monopoly harangues? Can he believe that the man who wrote Justice Field a letter of thanks, for what he termed his 'wise and just decision,' and in the space of a few years denounced him for the same decision, a fit man to represent the State of California in the United States Senate. What record has Mr. Delmas that he should be chosen over men like Del Valle? The first heard of Mr. Delmas as a Democrat was when the battle had been started and nearly won, then as an attorney, and for a fee he advocated the tax cases as against the corporations; the record is not there.

He has never been called upon as a legislator to vote upon the question, and consequently never invited the enemy to attack him. Honest George Hearst is entirely unknown to politics and its ways, but is chiefly known as the money backer of the Examiner, a business proposition.

I hope that Governor Stoneman will revolve these questions in his mind, and I feel assured that he will be consistent and give to Southern California an able, honest and courageous Senator in the appointment of R. F. Del Valle.

CONSISTENCY.

A Public Building—Some Telling Figures.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: I am glad to see you still "moving on the Government works," in the way of appropriations for public buildings in Los Angeles.

Last year I published a letter upon this subject, from which I give an extract and list, as it then appeared, as follows:

"To give a clearer view of the situation, I append a list of places for which appropriations have been made as appears by the laws of the last session, just published.

"But to emphasize the scandal and injustice done Los Angeles, I call attention to the town of Jackson, Tenn., with a $50,000 appropriation, which by the census of 1880 had 575 less in population than it had in 1870!

"It is incomprehensible to my mind to divine the influence that could move a majority in Congress of any party to such an appropriation of this or any other amount to a small waning town like this. But to the list:

	Population.	Approp.
Hannibal, Mo.	14,019	$ 75,000
Galveston, Texas	22,248	125,000
Council Bluffs, Iowa	19,000	100,000
Greensborough, N. C.		50,000
Jackson, Tenn.	11,023	50,000
Pensacola, Florida	7,800	50,000
Concord, N. H.	13,843	200,000
Lynchburg, Va.	16,032	150,000
Erie, Pa.	27,737	150,000
Terre Haute, Ind.	26,042	100,000
Shreveport, La.	8,000	100,000
Harrisonburg, Va.		50,000
Dubuque, Iowa	19,256	75,000
Williamsport, Pa.	18,934	100,000
Quincy, Ill.	27,268	75,000
Peoria, Ill.	29,259	225,000
Scranton, Pa.	45,850	75,000
Marquette, Mich.	10,200	100,000

"It will be observed that there are three places in the foregoing list, viz, Pensacola, Shreveport and Marquette, which are not populous enough to support a one-half that of Los Angeles, secure appropriations amounting to $400,000!

"Surely, in the light of the foregoing, Los Angeles with her population of 40,000 active, stirring, busy people, ought to be relieved from the charge of impertinence, in asking Congress for an appropriation for suitable buildings in which to transact her public business, including Land Office, whose last revenue to the government alone is nearly $40,000 a year.

Anglo-Phobe Americans.

A CRITIQUE OF ARCHDEACON FARRAR BY GEN. S. D. LEVIS OF OAKLAND, CAL.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: In the course of a conversation on literary topics the other day with the scholarly and traveled Gen. E. D. Keyes, well known on this coast and to the student of our late war, I was charmed to find him so thoroughly American in his views on men and questions of the day.

Keenly observant of European assumption of transcendent greatness, he is not moderate in his critique of representatives of such a class.

As Los Angeles has her full proportion of European travelers and scholars far inferior to Canon Farrar, it might be well for them to know how thinkers in the "breezy west" regard them, if they presume to enlighten the natives on matters on which they are competent to judge for themselves. I copy, by permission, the following extract as read to me by the General:

NEW YORK, October, 1885.—Archdeacon Farrar is lecturing in this city on Dante. I have not heard him, but the extracts from his discourses which I have read display a vivid imagination and great admiration for his subject.

Canon Farrar has asserted that the world will soon see another Shakespeare than another Milton or another Dante. After this declaration, my appreciation of this archdeacon is essentially qualified. Of Milton, Dr. Samuel Johnson declared that we read his poetry from a sense of duty, and that few persons can read "Paradise Lost" more than once. Dr. Johnson also asserts that Shakespeare has not only described human nature in every situation in which it presents itself, but in others which are impossible. I am not in full accord with Dr. Johnson in regard to Milton, whose poetry has enchanted me by its wonderful imaginative qualities and the beauty of its style. My ignorance of the Italian language renders it impossible for me to fully understand Dante's merits as a poet, but I concede to him greater genius than to Milton, as well as a superior capacity to hate his enemies. Both Milton and Dante far surpass Shakespeare in vindictiveness, but to compare any other poet that ever lived with Shakespeare seems to me an idle conceit.

I infer, from what I read in the newspapers of Canon Farrar, that he is a vain, flippant English chrehman, about whom "Anglo-phobe" Americans cluster, to show their servility to a character that is not American.

This is not a flattering opinion of the great English divine, whose writings are standard authority on the subjects treated. But it is interesting for the reason that the opinion expressed is that of a soldier-scholar on a man who, though great, has a great weakness for speculating in ultra scholastic questions. S. J. F.

THE FLOWER FESTIVAL.

Circular of Directions from the Society.

Following is the circular now being sent out by the ladies who had charge of last year's brilliantly successful Flower Festival, now arranging for a still more brilliant display of Southern California's floral wealth:

GREETING FROM THE FLOWER FESTIVAL SOCIETY.

"What is fairer than a rose?
What is sweeter?"

GEO. HERBERT.

The second annual Flower Festival of this society will open in the great Tabernacle at Los Angeles, on Tuesday, March 30, 1886, and will continue during that week, and probably during the week following. The building affords ample room for a splendid display of flowers from all points in Southern California.

The first annual exhibit, last year, brought us over 50,000 roses, besides a large variety of other flowers, and it is hoped that immediate preparation will be made for a generous response to this call for a still larger display.

The benefits arising from the work of this society are not limited to Los Angeles, but will be felt in all the adjoining communities. We therefore ask your hearty co-operation in this effort, not only as mutual lovers of the flowers which you bring to us, but as lovers of humanity, having a personal interest in the aims of the society.

A gentleman of large experience in designing and decorating, deeply impressed with the importance of our work, freely gives his time in superintending the interior arrangements and decorations of this vast building.

It is very necessary that all desiring to make exhibits should inform us immediately of the space required.

Flowers will be gratefully received, and acknowledged from those at a distance who may not be able to personally superintend their display.

It is especially desired that attention be given to exhibits of roses, in quantities or as specimens.

Florists, or other large growers, who desire to make special exhibits, should not fail to communicate with the Secretary before March 10th.

No charge will be made for space. Gen. E. E. Hewitt, of the Southern Pacific Railroad, Hon. J. F. Crank, of the San Gabriel Valley Railroad, and Williamson Dunn, General Agent of the California Southern Railroad, have generously offered to transport exhibits free of charge.

It is suggested that meetings be called at once in the several localities, committees appointed, and the work thoroughly organized, so that creditable representations may be secured.

All visitors in charge of exhibits will be entertained by the ladies of the society; and they should notify the Secretary, if possible, before the opening of the festival.

All applications for space, and all communications in reference to the exhibition, should be addressed to the Secretary, MRS. H. H. BOYCE, No. 434 South Hill street, Los Angeles, Cal.

The fame of our first Flower Festival reached the far East, and we hope to make this one still more glorious in its rich perfume and wealth of color.

"The beautiful is as useful as the useful, perhaps more so." VICTOR HUGO.

JOURNALISTIC.

To be a Washington Correspondent is to Possess a Vivid Imagination.

In the distant future—when the time of a still higher order of intelligence is at hand—the reporter who perpetrates such work as is now telegraphed from Washington will find himself out of employment. Would you believe it, the Washington journalist has got to thinking exclusively with his mouth. Think of it, he dictates 2000 and 5000 words and a sibbing. And his appointed time the Western Union, and a gullible public accepts it as news, but he calls it hogwash. A New York publisher, to fill a hearty fellow, last summer had to have a life of Gen. Grant. He struck Col. Ben: Perley Poore for the manuscript. Poore was slightly fatigued, but finally consented, and hired three stenographers. He dictated 10,000 and 15,000 words per day, until all the copy was in, and this the misguided and depraved youths known as newspapers, should think that they are inflicting upon an unoffending traveling public as a popular life of the great Captain. Think of Tom Moore working nearly a week on an eight-line impromptu! Buckles toiling seven years even to get the style in which his "History of Civilization" is written! Horace Greeley, who, had he never tried for the Presidency, might have been universally acknowledged the greatest journalist, seldom writing more than 500 words at a sitting; and George Bancroft, who has woven a garland of literary excellence in which the seeds of truth have flosted into every living language, all his life has pronounced 250 words a day's work. Artemus Ward was right: "Shakespeare would not have made a good Washington correspondent, for the reason that he lacked the requisite imagination."

The Texas Style.

Dallas Times.]

The grand cocking main between Dallas and St. Louis terminated yesterday afternoon, with victory perching on the banner of Dallas. The St. Louis man came with the pick-and-choice of all the game birds up and down the banks of the Father of Waters. He also brought his bundle which he untied, threw the string away, and said, "Cut the cards, I am here." The St. Louis man had the technicalities, or slang, if you please, of the pit down fine, and he was the admiration and model of the younger element of the toughs. Dallas never had whipped any bigger town than the Fort, and was not high up in chicken slang, but she had the chickens and had confidence in them. The fighting lasted for three days, and when the smoke of battle cleared away, there stood the rooster of Dallas master of his own dunghill, and in clarion tones announcing victory in cock-a-doodle-do. Dallas generally gets whatever she goes after. She has downed St. Louis in a horse-race, a base-ball contest and a chicken fight. If St. Louis will just find out what her strong gait really is, and will announce it, Dallas will show her she is no good on any part of the ground. Dallas is great at anything she tackles, no matter what it is, and when Moody and Sankey come, Dallas will give them the largest installment of converts they ever got in a town of the same size.

Metzker.

Pomona Progress.]

Supervisor Foord was in Pomona last Saturday, canvassing the town in company with his "friend Metzker." Together they succeeded in rolling up a remonstrance in favor of Metzker of over 300 names, some fifty of whom had previously signed the petition of Mr. Wildman. A good per cent. of the remainder were either Metzker's cronies or creditors. Metzker will probably retain his position, but it will certainly be against the wishes of a majority of our citizens.

A Sensible Move at McDonell's Drug Store, 271 North Main Street.

The enormous profit usually realized by the retail drug business is an impositi n on the buying public, and is far in excess of Eastern prices. The purest drugs can and shall be sold as low as in Chicago or New York. For instance, we will sell you—

One pound best gum camphor, 25 cents—regular price, 60 cents.

One bottle Hoyt's cologne, 15 cents—regular price, 25 cents.

One cake Colgate's cashmere bouquet soap, 25 cents—regular price, 35 cents.

Our prices for everything else are all as low as in the East.

Prescriptions compounded by experts only, and 400 per cent. profit is not charged Remember! McDONELL,
The Druggist.

THE COUNTY JAIL.

The Supervisors Accept A. M. Edelman's Plans.

DESCRIPTION OF THE PROPOSED JAIL.

A Vexed Question Settled at Last—A Modern and Serviceable Prison Building.

The Supervisors in regular session yesterday ended the long agony by accepting the plans of A. M. Edelman for the proposed but long-delayed county jail. The Board then adjourned till March 22, when Mr. Edelman will submit details and specifications.

A TIMES reporter called on Mr. Edelman last night, and took a detailed view of the accepted plans, of which a description follows:

EXTERNALLY.

The building is to be a handsome edifice, built of pressed brick, with granite trimmings, in the modern Gothic style of architecture. Its ground dimensions will be 48x112 feet, the length running about east and west. The front will be on New High street. It will have two stories and a basement. The extreme height of the building will be 48 feet. The front has a large, buttressed Gothic door, and five large Gothic windows. The door is reached by granite steps.

PLAN OF FIRST FLOOR.

Entering the big arched door, the visitor will stand in a short hall, ten feet wide. To the left of this hall is the general office, 14x17; to the right the jailor's private parlor, of the same dimensions. Passing back through the entrance hall, center and inner doors of wood and iron respectively lead into the staircase hall, which is also ten feet wide, and contains an iron staircase to the second story. To the left of the staircase hall is the room for condemned criminals, 13:8x14, where the death-watch will be kept over the doomed. To the right of the hall is a room 10x14, for the jailor's assistant or for the physician.

Passing back beside the staircase, one will enter the visitors' corridor, which runs across the building about north and south, and is 18:6x44 feet. The floor of this is to be of concrete, laid on iron girders. In this large apartment are two special cells, each 6x9; and a consultation cell 8x8. Opening from the visitors' corridor, and south of the staircase hall, is a trusty's room 8x8, and a private bath-room 8x8. Opening from the corridor in the same direction, but north of the staircase hall, will be a crazy cell 8x14. From the north end of the visitors' corridor will be a large door from the side of the jail, to connect with the courthouse.

THE CELL-TIERS.

Back of the visitors' corridor comes the third division of the building, containing the bulk of the cells, arranged very ingeniously but simply. There are two tiers of cells, the upper containing 14, which rooms (for the jail is built for the latter being hospital cells); and the lower 12, ranging from 7x9 to 9x9. These tiers rest one upon the other, being separated by an iron floor. This floor is 4½ feet above the level of the visitors' corridor floor. Along the center runs down the middle of each double line of cells; and the cells stand with a five-foot space between their backs and each outer wall. By this arrangement the trusty or any other person standing in the visitors' corridor will command through the barred openings, a view of everything behind and between the cells of both tiers, and of the prisoners when they are let out into the cells' corridor. This much lessens the chance of escape. From the visitors' corridor a 4½-foot flight of steps leads up to the upper tier, and a similar flight to the lower one. All the doors have combination lever bolts, and each has also a special Yale lock.

KITCHEN AND BASEMENT.

From the corridor of the lower tier, an iron staircase descends 8 feet into the jail kitchen, which is to be fitted up with necessary ranges, sinks, boilers, etc. From the kitchen open two storerooms, each 13:8x14:6. In front of these are two cells, each 7x13:6, with a 16-foot hall between. In front of all, and running under and across the whole front of the building is the coal and wood room, 14x43:4.

THE SECOND STORY.

Returning from the basement to the first floor, and going up the iron staircase, one will land on the second floor in a hall 10:6x34. North and east of this will be the jailors' private apartments—a chamber 14:4x16:4, another 10x10:6, a dining room 14:4x16:4, a kitchen 10:10x13:4, with closets, pantry, bath-room and private staircase leading to the first floor and to a private side entrance. South of the jailor's suite will be the department for female prisoners, with three cells ranging from 6:8x9:3 to 7:8x9, and a bathroom 7:8x9. Next will be the upper end of the upstairs visitors' corridor, 18:6x44. This contains four cells 6:8x9, for the Boss Tweed sort of prisoners—that is, those for whom some extra accomodation is required. Back of this visitors' corridor is an iron grating, with an iron door leading into a big room 38x50, containing space for cells to accommodate 48 prisoners. This room will not be fitted with cells at once, but meantime can be utilized as a workshop or for anything else.

Some of the cells are to be steel cages, and some will be iron. In the floor of the corridor of the second tier of cells is a trap door for executions—an excellent feature.

Mr. Edelman remarked as the reporter was leaving, "You can say for me that there will be no fanny business about this jail. I am going to put a building there that the county and city will be proud of."

The following letter, written yesterday, explains itself:

LOS ANGELES, March 9th, 1886.

Hon. Carter Harrison, Mayor, Chicago, Ill.—DEAR SIR: The Immigration Association of Southern California will open a Citrus Fair in the Exposition building of this city, beginning about the 20th inst. And we will further promise that, should Chicago ever elect to open a fair in Los Angeles for the display of any of her specialties, we will not forget, nor be unmindful of the Golden Rule.

I have the honor to subscribe myself, your obedient servant,

H. T. SPENCE, Mayor.

A SEWER SYSTEM.

The City Surveyor Points Out the Preliminaries.

The following report, submitted by the City Surveyor to Council yesterday, explains itself:

To the order of your honorable body March 3d for recommendations on sewer matters, I will state that this office is preparing as rapidly as possible the necessary data on which to base a sewer system. When the profiles of all the streets have been obtained, contours can be laid down sufficiently accurate to enable the locating of the dividing lines which mark the natural direction of drainage. The respective areas included by these lines can then be ascertained for a basis on which to calculate the dimension of sewers. I will soon have three leveling parties in the field, and their work kept up at the office end, so that the completion of the leveling will find us ready to commence the design.

The proper solution of this question cannot be arrived at sooner than the end of this year, and perhaps not by then; but by distributing the city in the manner I propose, the laying down of street sewers in a considerable portion of the city may commence as soon as the districts are laid out and your honorable body has decided on the system—whether to be the separate or combined. The former means one where the sewerage and storm-water are kept separate; and the latter, one where storm-water enters the sewers. It requires the study of investigation on one point only, to decide which is the best adapted to the case in question. The fact that Los Angeles does not possess a water-way that she can avail herself of for the larger half in relieving the sewers of excessive storm-water, makes it necessary, in the adoption of the combined system, to construct a sewer of immense proportions. The area that the principal main sewer would have to drain is about five square miles. A rain-fall of one inch per hour over this area would yield from it a flow 160 times greater than that of the Zanja Madre. Allowing that one-half of this amount reaches the sewers, the diameter of the main sewer at the lower extremity would be eighteen feet! The work would naturally have to commence at the outfall end of the system, so that this large sewer and its outfall would have to be built first, at a cost of about $500,000. As there is no probability of the city's being able to do this kind of a job for several years to come, the city demands immediate action in the provision of sewers, which can be had only by the adoption of the separate system. The surface drainage would be cared for in a manner similar to the present except that its flow would be intercepted at frequent intervals, and carried to the nearest gully, which would have to be considerably enlarged. The zanja system will have to be maintained for many years to come, and as its improvement is contemplated, the cost of the additional provision in its capacity for carrying off storm-water can not begin to compare with that of the sewer above-mentioned. The sewers laid at present have been designed in view of the adoption of a separate system, and their entire removal is otherwise necessary. Your honorable body cannot fail to appreciate the necessity of a thorough investigation of this matter before any more sewers are laid down or improvements on main zanjas made. Very respectfully,

FRED. EATON, City Surveyor.

GAS RATES CUT DOWN.

Also an ordinance fixing the rates to be charged for gas after July 1 next, at $2 50 per 1000 cubic feet.

A communication from the gas company was read protesting against any municipal regulation or attempt to regulate the rates of gas, claiming that the city has no such authority.

Mr. Breed read the section from the New Constitution fully authorising the city to regulate these rates. He also read statistics, showing the total net cost of making 1000 cubic feet of gas here to be $1.10. He thought $2.50 a generous price. The Company pays here is $3.50. In San Francisco the rate is regulated by the city, and is now $2.

Mr. Stearns said he would be better for the Gas Company to sell gas at $2.50. The present exorbitant rate bars out many who would otherwise be consumers.

The ordinance was unanimously passed. The protest of the Company was filed.

A number of bills were referred to the Committee on Finance.
